Headmistress' Note

“As the Half Yearly examinations are around the corner and Modernites gear up to do their level best, general anxiousness is expected before the exams. We, as facilitators, ensure that we identify the needs of our students. The culture in the school and the fun filled revision sessions eradicates their anxiety. Our students look forward to their exams with the purpose to assess the extent of learning and retention that has taken place for them in every subject. My best wishes are with them for their learning, growth and success.
